Kansas City World War I Train Tour October 22-23, 2018

Join us for a train trip from St. Louis to Kansas City led by Jefferson Barracks curator Mike Venso to see two great museums, a pair of special exhibits and an exclusive event featuring the daughters of two World War I Medal of Honor winners. We'll visit the Harry S. Truman Presidential Library & Museum as well as their special exhibit: Heroes or Corpses: Captain Truman in World War I. Day two will feature a guided tour of the National WWI Museum and Memorial and the touring exhibition, For Liberty: American Jewish Experience in WWI. A highlight will be a very special Q&A session with Elsie Shemin-Roth of St. Louis and Joan Wells of Kansas City, daughters of Medal of Honor recipients William Shemin and John Lewis Barkley.

Trip includes:

- Round trip rail transport from Gateway Station or Kirkwood Station on Amtrak
- Round trip transportation to all events while in Independence & Kansas City
- Hotel accommodations at Drury Inn & Suites (Independence)
- Museum and special exhibition admissions
- Three meals: Monday dinner, Tuesday breakfast and lunch
- Tips and gratuities
- Tour guides to ensure you have a great experience!
